WOMEN MAINTAIN HEALTH AND BEAUTY WITH DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin

lightens her step. Elimination is an enemy of obesity; it prevents headaches, gas, lassitude, and similar disorders. Women should watch themselves in this regard—no woman is above it—and with it will come general good health. There is one laxative in particular that every woman should have in her home, because it is so ideally suited to her requirements, and that is DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin. It is especially adapted to the uses of children, women, old people, and all others who should avoid salts, cathartics, and purgative waters, because they shock the delicate system. SYRUP PEPsin acts effectively but mildly. Only a small dose is required, and while it is so mild that an infant can take it with safety, yet it is effective in the strongest constitution. It has no equal in the cure of the most stubborn constipation. Its occasional use will bring bloom and health and do away entirely with the drowsy and one petty illness that women so frequently complain of. Buy a bottle and you will be amazed at the results.

Dr. Caldwell's: The sample of Syrup Pepsin which you sent me helped me. I am about finishing my second bottle and must say it has done me so much good that I am willing to testify to any one. I have suffered for several years with constipation and other disorders of the stomach.

THROUGH TRANSFER

Sharp Practice of Railway Mail Clerks Must Cease.

A practice of speculating in the exchange of positions prevalent among clerks of the railway postal service has been detected by officials of the Post-office Department, and an order was issued yesterday in an effort to effect its abolition.

It seems that men on lines where work is light would offer to trade places with less fortunately situated clerks, provided a consideration was paid. In some cases the price was as high as $200. The Post-office Department officials, believing the transfers were asked in good faith, allowed them.

Under the order issued yesterday, any clerk detected in the practice of speculating on the exchange of positions will be summarily removed from the service. The order not only includes such clerks as offer to make an exchange for a consideration, but those who accept such an offer.

Exchanges will only be permitted when the application of the clerk is found to be bona fide and made in good faith.

HE ALLEGES DISCRIMINATION

Dr. Thirkield Says Government Does Not Deal Fairly with the Colored Race—Points to Need of Schools Where Agriculture Is Specialized—His Annual Report.

Criticism of alleged discrimination toward Indians at the expense of colored citizens is made part of the annual report of Howard University, yesterday forwarded to the Secretary of the Interior by President Thirkield. He pointed out that for the 250,000 Indians in the United States the government last year spent $1,400,000, while for the 10,000,000 colored persons only $100,000 was appropriated.

"Yet colored teachers in the common and high schools," the report continues, "are expected to meet the requirements of the State authorities. To practice medicine the colored man is required to pass the same examination before State boards as the white physician. So also in other professions and pursuits provision must be made for these 10,000,000 of our colored citizens, else it will mean the blind leading the blind and both falling into the ditch at great cost to society and the State."

Should Teach Farming.

Dr. Thirkield adds that the great need of the colored men to-day is more practical study in matters of agriculture. Nearly 85 per cent of the population of 10,000,000, he says, are engaged in agricultural pursuits. Yet there is not a single school for colored persons in the United States where agriculture is a specialty.

The report shows that 1,472 students attended the Howard University during last year, coming from thirty-seven States and eleven foreign countries.

WIDOW TO FIGHT DECREE.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Prall Moves to Dismiss Her Counsel.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Prall, widow of William E. Prall, Jr., an inventor, yesterday filed a notice in court that she will personally appear before Justice Wright to-morrow and demand the dismissal of the decree of the District Supreme Court, which awards her one-fourth interest in the property in Sixteenth street, between I and K streets northwest, valued at more than $100,000.

Mrs. Prall objects to the decree and has filed a motion to dismiss her counsel, alleging conspiracy and charging that the decree was approved by her attorney against her will.

MRS. PUGH WAS EIGHTY-ONE.

Widow of Alabama Senator Dies at Son's Home.

Mrs. Sarah Serena Pugh, widow of Senator James L. Pugh, of Alabama, and mother of Judge James L. Pugh, of the Police Court, died yesterday at the home of her son, Edward L. Pugh, in Chevy Chase. Mrs. Pugh passed her eighty-first birthday last August.

Mrs. Pugh was born in North Carolina, in 1830. Her maiden name was Hunter, and as a young girl she moved to Alabama, where she met the late Senator Pugh, then a young practicing lawyer, in the town of Eufaula. She married him in 1850, when her husband was elected to a seat in the United States Senate.

From 1859 almost until the time of her death Mrs. Pugh took a leading part in social functions of the Congressional and Southern colonies particularly.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral, except that the body will be taken to Mrs. Pugh's old home in Eufaula, to be buried by the side of her husband. Funeral services in this city probably will be held to-morrow.

Mrs. Pugh is survived by six children: Mrs. A. V. Cochran, of New York; Edward L. Pugh, a government employee, of this city; Judge James L. Pugh, Jr., of this city; Judge John C. Pugh, of Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. Sarah Pugh Elliott, of Alabama; and Henry L. Pugh, of Baltimore, Md.

At the Belasco Theater to-morrow night, Saturday matinee and night the musical event of the present season will occur in the presentation by Henry W. Savage of Giacomo Puccini's grand opera, "The Girl of the Golden West." In English. This opera, which was sung in Italian at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, last season, is so essentially an American subject that Mr. Savage decided to have it sung in English by a cast which in every sense is a grand opera organization.

Louisa Villani, who four years ago made her debut at the famous La Scala, Milan; the role of Jack Rance, the sheriff, will be sung by Carl Gantvoort; Dick Johnson will be sung by Umberto Sacchetti, and Winkie by Mlle. ### "The First Lady of the Land" at Columbia.

Surrounded by the greatest cast ever assembled for a feminine star, with a brilliant comedy mounted in superb style, Miss Elsie Ferguson comes to the Columbia Theater next week in "The First Lady of the Land," from the pen of Charles F. Nirdlinger. The personal charm of Miss Ferguson alone is enough to sustain a play, but as she has the added force of great talent, the assistance of her array of talent in the cast, and a big production, the result should be one of the most pleasing offerings of the season.

"The First Lady of the Land" is animated wholly by the heart and soul of Dolly Todd, that famous beauty who kept the statesmen assembled at Philadelphia, when that was the Capital of the country, in a "tornado of strife for her favor. Miss Ferguson portrays the vivacious Dolly, with a strong sense of humor, and she is the center of the mercurial.

Henry B. Harris is responsible for the production, a guarantee in itself of its worth.

"Betsy" at the Belasco.

At the Belasco Theater next week Grace La Rue will be seen in the comedy-opera "Betsy," a musical novelty in which she has met with unusual favor in every city of the present tour. Miss La Rue, who was last here as leading lady for Sam Bernard in "Nearly a Hero," has, in the part of Betsy, a fascinating widow who marries one man to gain another, a part that gives her splendid opportunity to sing those songs and do those dances which have won her a notable place in stardom. Miss La Rue is the wife of Byron Chandler, who is also her manager and "angel." It is said that she gratifies her every whim, and when recently she wanted a new song to take the place of one that "wasn't making good," he had composed, lyric writer, and orchestra come from New York to Baltimore to make the song overnight. Mr. Chandler carries two automobiles en route for pleasure riding about the cities in which he is playing.

Miss La Rue is noted for the wearing of striking gowns, which she designs herself. "Betsy" is the work of H. Kellert Chambers, with music by Alexander D'Amico. In the supporting cast are Cecil Jervis Ryan, John Willard, Worthington L. Romaine, George W. Callahan, Alfred Deery, Donald Buchanan, Juliette Lange, Lavina Shannon, Lucie Carter, and Myrtle Jersey.

Polite Vaudeville at Chase's.

During Thanksgiving week at Chase's the foremost offering will be the Florentine Grand Opera Company. There are eight of these celebrated singers, including Heinrich Danneberg, a noted soprano; Florence Le Moyne and Marion Littlefield, contraltos; Stefano Pettino and Angelo Lekuori, tenors; A. Swinton, From Arnour, basses, and Alfred Zambrano, conductor. Marion Littlefield, the only woman impresario, is the director of the company.

An extra added attraction, by permission of the Messrs. Shubert, their managers, will be Tempest and Sunshine, those charming entertainers, who have made an immense hit at the New York Winter Garden. Another special feature will be the introduction of the famous baseball funny man and first baseman of the Washington team, "Germany" Schaefer, who, assisted by pretty and piquant Grace Belmont, will present his new and novel baseball farcical fantasy, "Winning a Pennant." Then there will be the comedy hits of "The Red Rover," Seymour Brown and Nat D. Ayer, the song-writing comedians, who will repeat the successes they sang in the New York production. These are, "Oh, You Beautiful Doll" and "The Band Came Back." Dick, "the hand-writing dog," the only one living that can write with pen and ink on paper, will be among the novelties. Marcena and Delton alone are expected to make strong appeal with their circus comedy. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Darrow, the noted sand and silhouette artists, will contribute an agreeable number, and the photographic daylight motion pictures will show recent events of international importance.

Comedy at the Cosmos.

Comedy will reign supreme at the Cosmos the coming week, when an exceptionally well-balanced bill will be presented. It will undoubtedly be in popularity with the present week's programme. The headliner is Thomas Brady, Ella Wilson, and company in a hilariously funny sketch, "Winning a King," which is replete with droll and mirthful situations. Col. "Ned" Seymour, rightly termed "king of the cornet," is an eccentric musician, with many mellowed novelties to offer.

Nellie La Mar is a dancing violinist, who will cleverly mingle the temperate art with tuneful delights. Ermina, with her assisting company, will present an act full of acrobatic novelty, entitled "Queen of the Wire." Earle and Bartlett, in excellent character comedienne, will offer a genuine Irish playlet without a single touch of caricature, entitled "O'Brien, from Galway." Pathé's weekly review of current events will complete the bill, and all of the film features are excellent.

"Taxi Girls" at the Gayety.

The latest attractive burlesque, "The Taxi Girls," will hold the boards at the Gayety next week. Among the most popular of the entertainers is the famous Farrell-Taylor Trio, known for their delightful and highly amusing musical sketches. Among the others are Sigmond and Edith, French grotesques and eccentric epics; the Gossman Duo, in their unique conversational and singing specialty; Henry Fink and sister, in a big comedy singing act; Henry Nelson, the exponent of German rollicks; and Ward and Bohlander, in the funny act, "The Grassy Chaps." The burlesque entitled "In Mexico" will conclude the clever programme.

The programme throughout is exceptionally good, filled with plenty of songs and jokes, and the chorus girls are of a type rarely seen in burlesque.

Attractions at the Arcade.

Beginning next Monday, the first of the series of special attractions the management of the Arcade is arranging for the season will start, continuing all the week. The attraction will be a "Junt and Jeff" feature.
